

Variety Show to Benefit County Library Fund

Undertaking quite a large project and a most worthy one, the Canyon Lions Club is going all out in promotion of a library building for the Randall County Library which is now located in the Court House. The first step is raising funds for this project, is the sponsoring of the College Variety Show in two appearances next week. The first show will be on February 24 at Canyon High School auditorium and the second show will be the following night, February 25 at the College Administration Building. These shows will begin at 8:15 p. m. and all proceeds will go into the library fund for the new building. Randall County is very much in need of this new building, and the Lions Club is to be commended for undertaking this project. How soon it will be possible for construction to begin on the new library will depend on the cooperation of the citizens of Randall county and their support of Lions' sponsored projects. All funds made by the Lions Club from now until the library is finished will go into that project. The Club hopes to announce the site of the new building in the near future, but at this time negotiations have not been completed. Rev. Joe Findley is president of the Lions Club.

County Agent Urges Good Dairy Year

In a statement to the News this week, County Agent H. E. Shahan is urging a good dairy year for 1947. Shahan says: "Just how good a dairy year 1947 will be depends on how well dairymen balance their herd operation. Year after year, profitable dairying has been the result of a well-fed, well managed herd of well-bred dairy cows, and there is no reason to believe that 1947 will come up with a new and different formula.

"Year-round milk production depends on year-round feeding, and good pasture is the cheapest source of nutrients for dairy cows. On the other hand, poor pasture can be the most expensive source of feed when the cows lose more weight and energy hunting grass and green pasture than they get from what they find. Pasture should furnish at least a third of the total feed supply for a herd, and it is possible for cows to get over half of their total feed from grass.

"After a cow's maintenance requirements are met, she should be fed concentrates according to production. In this way, more pounds of milk for each pound of concentrate are obtained. The amount of the concentrate to feed per gallon of milk depends upon the kind of roughage the cow is getting. If she is getting good green pasture or legume hay, she should get about three pounds of grain mixture per day for each gallon of milk produced daily. A good cow should receive some concentrated feed every day in the year, regardless of whether she is fresh or dry. When the cow is dry, she needs building up so that she will have a reserve from which to draw during the next lactation period.

"Extension Bulletin No. 69 will give more information on balanced dairying. It may be obtained at the County Agent's office. It is Feeding and Care of the Dairy Herd."

Farmers Chip In To Caliche Country Road

Citizens living west of Hollywood in Precinct 4 have raised money to caliche the road running west from Hollywood 2 1/2 to 3 miles. The work will be under the direction of County Commissioner Calvin Casey. The property owners found that the precinct did not have a sufficient amount of money to do the work, so a petition was circulated and every land owner on both sides of this road participated in the expense of laying the caliche.

Those contributing are: Ray N. Slagle, Harmon Vaughan, Gerhard Weigard, Boyd Elliott, Jack Coulter, E. E. Mimms, Paul Fluegel, Wilson Campbell, Harley Burrus, Mrs. Martha Menke, and the Bush Estate.

Former Jap Prisoner Talked at Rotary Luncheon Tuesday

Frank Garrison, former member of the Marine Corps, who was taken prisoner at Guam in January, 1942, spoke at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. He is attending West Texas State.

Cranell Tolliver, head of the Speech Department, introduced Garrison. Mr. Tolliver stated that the War Veterans enrolled in W. T. are here for a definite purpose and are doing their best to get all out of the courses. It is an inspiration to members of the faculty to do their best for these veterans who have sacrificed so much. He described Garrison as a 27 year old freshman; married; with 100% disability after 44 months spent in a Jap prisoner of war camp.

Garrison stated that he enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1940. After a short training period he was shipped to Guam, which had little fortification and little equipment for a war. The natives had learned their English from Marines and Sailors.

He described the easy life of the Marines and the native habits until it was announced that Pearl Harbor had been attacked. Those on Guam did not believe that the Japs would bother them until bombs started to fall.

After the Japs landed, Garrison and nine other men hid out for 10 days hoping to evade capture.

When they had to surrender they were shipped to Japan. They first worked in reclaiming farm land and then were sent to a steel mill. The Marines performed every act of sabotage possible, and stole everything they could from the Japs. When the war was over they took charge of the camp, and in a few minutes there were no Japs around. They hunted down their former captives as best they could and few of the Japs escaped alive.

After the war ended his group was brought home by way of Guam, and the men were amazed at the fortifications which had been built since they left there.

Visitors were: Rev. Joe Findley of Canyon; Claude Hamilton of Childress; A. J. Wurzbach of Kansas City; Robert Jonason, Forrest Barnes, Lahroy White Arch Hunsley, Ross Rogers, Dr. R. Thomsen, all of Amarillo.

Red Cross Chapter Has Various Activities Here

The Randall County chapter of the American Red Cross has had many worthy projects to its credit during the past year, and with the annual Red Cross Drive coming up in March, it is hoped that contributions this year will make it possible for the Red Cross to continue its work here.

One branch of the local organization to which great credit is due, is the Community Service to Camps and Hospitals. Mrs. George Melton is chairman of this group in Randall County, Mrs. T. H. Knighton and Mrs. C. O. Elkins also worked on this project last year. Their work consisted of adding to the recreational facilities, libraries, etc., of the hospital at Amarillo Field and the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo.

This organization gave $285 to help light the sports arena at the Veterans Hospital, it has helped buy a loud speaker system, drapes, and different items for the rehabilitation room. While Amarillo Field was still in operation, the Camp and Hospital Committee bought books, bingo games, prizes, and took 500 patients on a trip to Palo Duro Canyon. Besides these special services, the committee contributes $10 per month to the Veteran's Hospital to be used for recreational facilities.

At Christmas time, the Randall County Red Cross Chapter sent many boxes overseas, and received a letter of appreciation from one boy in the Navy, saying that was the first time in his four years in the Navy, he had received such a nice package from the Red Cross.

No Word Has Been Received on the Airport

No word has been received this week on the airport.

The inspector, who was scheduled to look over the plans, did not show up as scheduled.

Mayor W. A. Warren has all of the final details worked out ready for submission to the government officials.

Deeds to the land are ready for inspection, and a map of the proposed airport is being drawn at the request of CAA officials.

Future development of the new National Guard Company likewise is at a standstill.

Temporary quarters have been arranged for the company during the organization period. 20 acres of land for the new unit will be taken out of the property which was recently bought for the airport.

Officials at Austin have indicated that no progress will be made on the company until the legislature and Congress act upon pending appropriations. No Captain for the company has been selected after the refusal of Captain Joe Gill to accept the appointment.

Townpeople Invited to Music Film Week

Music Film Week will be held at the college from February 24 thru February 28, and the people of Canyon are invited to take part in this visual musical study, Miss Ada V. Clark announced this week.

Each day in the film room, in the Education Building, at 9 o'clock and 1:30 o'clock, students will be shown musical films and outsiders who are interested may come at that time also. On Tuesday evening, February 25, at 7:15 o'clock there will be a special musical film for the people of Canyon. This film is being shown early, so there will be no conflict with the College Variety Show at 8:15. As an example of what these pictures are, some of them portray composers lives and music, one is a picture of the Telephone Hour broadcast with Donald Vorhees and the Bell Telephone orchestra and Joseph Hoffmann, the distinguished pianist, as the guest artist, and another portrays Shostakovich, Russia's great modern composer, playing his own great classic on the piano with symphony orchestra. This particular selection is a marvel of recording and synchronization.

For music lovers, this Music Film Week should be of great interest.

Wheat States Make Study of Future Crops

The Farm Bureaus of the Panhandle of Texas were represented at the Western States Wheat Conference held last week in Omaha, Nebraska by Joe Hatten of Amarillo, R. C. Buckles of Stratford and W. H. Upchurch of Canyon.

These men were representing the Tri-District Farm Bureau Association recently organized in Amarillo and composed of representatives from sixteen county Farm Bureau organizations.

The Omaha meeting was called for the purpose of making a study of various recommendations from the wheat states in regard to proposed programs for wheat. Twelve states were represented at the conference. These included all the major wheat producing states from Texas to North Dakota and from Oklahoma to Washington and Oregon.

The different wheat producing areas of the Nation have many different ideas regarding the question of surplus wheat after the two year period of price supports pledged by the Government and the ending of Lend-Lease shipments abroad.

Several of these ideas in the form of proposed programs were presented to the Wheat Council at Omaha by the various State delegations. They were discussed in an attempt to reach an area of agreement under which recommendations could be made to the Congress for future action. None of the proposals presented carried any provisions for making Government payments to farmers for acreage control. Many of the growers favored some self-supporting program of production control as a last resort when all other methods fail. All the delegations favored the continuation of the present AAA Soil Conservation program.

The use of surplus farm products in making alcohol came in for considerable study. Development in this field was explained by Dr. Leo M. Christensen who gave the delegates a personally conducted tour through the Government owned alcohol plant at Omaha.

Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, who is Chairman of the House Agricultural Committee of Congress, attended the conference and took part in the discussions. Mr. Hope reviewed the history of farm legislation in Congress and offered many constructive suggestions. He stated that his committee would start open hearings soon on the entire subject of agricultural legislation and that he hoped no new farm laws would have to be passed under any emergency and that all agriculture could be considered and be heard before any new programs are written.

POLITICAL FREEDOM AT STAKE

As Congress begins work on labor legislation, it is clear that a primary duty must be the elimination of two of the worst existing abuses—the forcing of a man to pay tribute to a union before he can work, whether he desires the union's services or not; and the power of unions to levy a tax on their members for political and legislative purposes.

The case of C. B. DeMille versus the American Federation of Radio Artists, which is now making its way through the courts, exemplifies both these abuses.

The facts of the case are that Mr. DeMille was engaged in presenting a national radio program. Subsequent to the commencement of this program, AFRA had organized a closed shop in the profession, and Mr. DeMille joined the union because otherwise he would not have been permitted to work on the air. In 1944, the Board of Directors of AFRA assessed each member one dollar to finance a campaign in opposition to an anti-closed shop proposition on the California ballot. Mr. DeMille favored the proposition and refused to pay the assessment. AFRA then expelled him, thus making it impossible for him to continue his radio work.

Mr. DeMille went to court. The Superior Court of Los Angeles County and, subsequently, the District Court of Appeal of California, held in favor of AFRA.

If higher courts agree with the lower courts in their interpretation of the questions of law involved, Congress must provide redress. What would happen to an industry if its management levied an assessment on the wages of workers to finance a political campaign for or against some measure? That is precisely what AFRA has done. And what would happen to an industry if a worker who refused to pay the assessment was discharged and blacklisted in his trade? Again, that is what AFRA has done. Here is dictatorship destroying political freedom.

PASS THE BULWINKLE BILL

In the latter part of January, the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee again held hearings on the Bulwinkle bill. This measure is designed to protect common carriers engaged in joint tariff and rate-making efforts through rate bureaus, from Federal antitrust proceedings.

One of the most remarkable things about the Bulwinkle Bill is the support it has received. As J. Carter Fort, general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, said, it is difficult to recall any proposed transportation legislation "with which there is such unanimity in the informed views of those affected." It is being backed by shippers, by railroads, by a legion of newspapers, by economists and by regulatory officials.

As an example of that, Clyde B. Atchison, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, appeared before the Senate Committee to recommend the measure's passage. He pointed out that subjecting the railroads to antitrust proceedings "may interfere with carrying out the national transportation policy." J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, and also an ICC member, offered similar testimony, and said: "Its enactment, in my judgment, should not be long delayed."

There can be no fear that the Bulwinkle bill would promote "monopoly" in transportation—the railroads are regulated in every phase of operation by the ICC and state commissions. The bill would simply assure the railroads and shippers the right to continue a rate-making system which has been long sanctioned by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and on which the transportation machine is based, and for which no one has been able to suggest a workable substitute.

THE CHANGING TIMES

During the war, and for some time after it ended, retail stores had to take whatever goods were offered them, even when prices were high and quality low. Consumers had to be content with smaller and poorer stocks to choose from. This was a situation that couldn't be helped—it was the certain consequence of war's insatiable demands on our producing machine.

Now, however, times seem to be rapidly changing—and for the better. Business papers and trade journals report that buyers for retail stores are casting jaundiced eyes on sub-standard merchandise. They are questioning prices which seem out of line. They know that the consumer will again demand the best possible product for the least possible price—and they are out to meet that demand.

This certainly does not mean that prices are going to crack wide open—the pressures are still inflationary in many cases. But it does indicate that there is going to be less and less shoddy merchandise—and more and more goods which offer maximum and dependable value in their price brackets. And, by the same token, store stocks are once more being built up to approximations of pre-war abundance and selection.

This is retailing's traditional service to the nation. Store operators are as pleased as anyone else to see the economy of scarcity gradually disappear.

GOVERNMENT AND THE PUBLIC HEALTH

It may be that some of the supporters of compulsory government medical care, whose logical end can only be completely socialized medicine, feel that government has always been involved to some extent in public health problems and might as well go farther.

The fact is that government health work in the past has been conducted in fields where its responsibility is clear-cut and undeniable. The Public Health Service is the established example—its purpose is to prevent disease and aid local government in disease control. Care for veterans, carried on by the Veteran's Administration, is an inevitable consequence of war, but veterans are not compelled to accept it. Men whose health was injured in their country's services are obviously entitled to all the aid the government can provide. And it is to the credit of the Administrator, General Bradley, that whenever possible this work is being carried on at the local, home-town level, instead of putting everything into the remote hands of Washington bureaucrats.

Again, an excellent case can be made for government medical assistance to the needy—to the people who simply can't pay for medical service. There is little opposition to this, and it falls naturally into the social responsibilities any government must accept.

But government must not undermine and possibly destroy the system of private medicine that has been so signally successful. There is no valid case for compulsory medical insurance which would force people to pay for it whether the service was desired or not. Here is where the line must be drawn—and that will be the responsibility of Congress when the various proposed health bills come up for consideration.

THE RIGHT TO WORK

As debate in Congress over proposed labor legislation wears on, it becomes evident that decisive action must be taken to outlaw three practices which have been given a few labor leaders monopolistic powers over the industries of this nation and subjected the right of a man to earn a living to their none-too-tender mercies.

First, is the closed shop. The closed shop means that you cannot work unless you pay a private organization, the union, for this basic right of a free man. Thus the right of a man to buy food and shelter and to provide for his family is involved. In the words of the Portland Oregonian, the closed shop "is morally incompatible with a system of government which guarantees the freedom of the individual and it is no longer necessary for protection of unionism."

Second, is the closed union. This is a vicious extension of the closed-shop idea, whereby a man cannot join a union if he chooses. A privileged group says, in effect: "only those of our choosing may be employed in this trade or craft."

Third, is industry-wide bargaining. This is designed to bring union power to a new, monopolistic high. One big union signs agreements with all or practically all of the producers of a product. Then, if the union head decides to call a strike, all production of that product stops as of a given moment. Soft coal is a perfect example. At the word of one man, representing only 400,000 workers, a commodity which is vitally necessary to the operation of industry, the employment of millions of people, and the public health and welfare itself, can be denied the nation—regardless of the suffering that must result.

The closed shop is the first of these abuses—all the others depend upon it. Unionism grew great in this country because the unions offered workers services which they needed and were willing to pay for. Now unionism demands the right to levy an involuntary tax on all workers under penalty of denying him employment. No private organization should be allowed such powers. We have reached the point where the right of a man not to join a union must be protected, no less than his privilege to join if he wishes.

AN AMERICAN STORY

We tend to forget the fact that "big business" was "little business" a few years ago. A true American story is the chronicle of people succeeding, prospering and developing through their own efforts.

The history of one of the country's principal retail systems, is a case in point. Its importance lies in the fact that the history of most successful American enterprise is essentially the same.

In 1915, a man opened a hole-in-the-wall store in the West. Little by little, as his resources permitted, he started additional stores. In 1926, he merged with another system. In 1931, still another merger took place. And the business, in response to public demand for its service, continued to grow.

There is no mystery to the secret of this success. The store offered the public things it wanted—the way it wanted them. It was a pioneer in the self-service idea, which reduced costs and gave the customer a chance to browse about in making his purchases. It adopted more attractive and sanitary display and handling methods. It installed such conveniences as free parking space adjacent to stores. And, vitally important, it held prices down. In 1945, for example, after paying farmers and other suppliers, salaries, taxes, etc., its net profit was actually less than one penny on each sales dollar!

Other retail systems have had a similar record. Somewhere, today, there is a small-store operator who will be the big-store operator of tomorrow—if inequitable taxes and governmental interference don't stand in his way. If there is one word which can be used to describe the American system, that word is "opportunity." We must never forget it.

Ghostly Night Visit Puzzles Even Cops

Witnesses Tell Their Stories; 'Twas Eerie Event.

BALTIMORE, MD.—Accustomed as they are to cries of distress at 2 a. m., the police just smiled knowingly when a caller who would not give his name rang up early in the morning and reported:

"I felt a tapping on the roof of the car as I was parking. When I got out and looked up, there was a man suspended from something I couldn't see. He said 'Hello.' I said 'Hello.' Then he flew away toward the cemetery."

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Learsman checked in next, and Mrs. Learsman told it this way:

"It was about 400 feet up, although that might be an exaggeration. First we saw a red light and then what was quite definitely a parachute canopy with a figure hanging from it. We couldn't tell whether it was a man or a woman."

R. R. Lee, night club musician, reported next:

"It was about 200 feet up. Either it was coming down or I was going up. I was a little confused. It was like a funny looking cloud. A light flashed inside. Some one hollered 'Hello' or 'Help'—one or the other. I would have yelled back, but every one would have thought I was crazy."

The police, not so sure now, alerted all prowling cars in the district for which "it" was last headed. They sighted nothing. Neither did Inspector William J. Forrest, who made an extensive tour.

P. S.—The naval training station at Lakehurst, N. J., said five free balloons, each with an instructor and four students aboard, left Lakehurst on a routine training mission that night.

Says Walking Erect Cause of Many Ills

CHICAGO.—If you suffer from varicose veins, hernia or backache, blame your ancestors, Dr. Wilton M. Krogman says. Your aches and pains started when they decided to stand erect.

Krogman, professor of physical anthropology at University of Chicago, said that man's entire body changed when he got off all fours several million years ago.

"Blood in the leg veins suddenly had to go up as well as down, there was greater strain on the spine and the stomach was dislocated," Krogman said.

"Gradually, the ills resulting from this development are being eliminated, but it's an evolutionary process, and men probably will have such aches and pains for a long time—and I mean thousands of years."

Fizzle of Nazi's Atom Bomb Told by University Physicist

CHICAGO. — Until the Americans devastated Hiroshima, the Germans believed they had produced the world's first atomic bomb, according to a Northwestern university physicist.

But all they actually produced, said Dr. S. A. Goudsmit, was a pile of uranium and paraffin that went up in flames one day.

"At the rate they were working," he told the Physics club, "it would have taken them 100 years to get a bomb."

Dr. Goudsmit was a member of a civilian intelligence unit that inspected Nazi laboratories in 1944.

Germany began working on a bomb early in 1939, he reported. A group of physicists met and formed a secret uranium society (Uran Verein).

"The project had the highest priority among scientific labors in Germany, and the total expenditure of about 10 million dollars was a large one for Germany but a meager one compared to ours," Dr. Goudsmit said.

"It was estimated that only 100 scientists, scattered all over Germany, were working in small groups on different phases of the problem."

Elk Turns Squatter; Takes Barn, Oats; Horses Get Grass

NORTH BAY, ONT. — Robin Buckley, a farmer, is smack up against the squatter problem. He found his horses outside their stable one night and in no mood to enter. In the stable he found a big elk, which liked the oats and was in no mood to leave. Buckley told the department of lands and forests about it. It reminded him of regulations protecting elk and said it was sure he would take good care of his guest. The elk is still there gorging itself on oats. The horses are outside eating grass.

1,950,053 Vets Receiving U. S. Training Benefits

WASHINGTON. — Veterans' administration reported 1,950,053 veterans of World War II were receiving federal education or training benefits at the end of October. During late September and October, 509,521 veterans entered schools and colleges, increasing the total to 1,292,393. In the same period, 81,364 entered on-the-job training, raising the total in that program to 665,160, according to the VA report.

The Bum

By FREDERICK G. MEYER
WNU Features.

JAMES DEVENY and I slouched against the bar, our backs to it and our weight on our elbows. From there we could watch the couples at their little tables or sneer at others struggling on the night club dance floor. I wasn't out there because I wasn't interested. Jim wasn't out there because he had left part of his right leg on Iwo Jima.

A tall broad-shouldered man dancing quietly with a tall, blonde girl caught my eye. While the youngsters and some not quite so young jitter-bugged around, they moved gracefully and surely, making their own orbit.

He was one of those men who, even while young, looks successful and always manages to become so. The tall, blonde girl was strictly country club material.

I was still new to our town, so I nudged Jim. "They seem out of place."

Jim almost snarled. "I don't know her but he's not out of place. He's the biggest bum in town."

That only made me curious. "He sure doesn't look like one. What's the story?"

"We went to high school together. His name is Adrian R. Gulliver, the Third. Wouldn't that kill you! His old man owns the Factory. We played football together. I did the playing and he got all the headlines because he was a Gulliver. Our last year we were tied for the conference scoring honor and in the last game we got the ball down about the two yard line.

"He was the quarter-back, but he was also our line-bucker. Every-one figured he could take it over. So what does he do but give it to me and I go around end for six points. And do you think that I got any credit for it? Hell, no! He gets a special award for being the most sportsmanlike player of the year or something like that. I still think his old man bought the thing," exploded Jim.

"That big bum is yellow, too. We were at a dance one night, long time before the war, and he was there with a girl that I went with once in a while. I cut in and talked her into taking a walk after the dance. Coming back we bumped right into him. I asked him if he wanted to make something out of it and he just shrugged. He asked the girl if she had a way home and that's all he did. And the big bum outweighed me by fifty pounds and he used to box on some team at college."

"Then the war comes along and he couldn't go in just like the rest of us. He enlists! I didn't hear about him for a long time but finally he comes home with a chest full of ribbons. Sure, he's in the air force and you know what he is when he gets out? Take a guess?"

I took a guess. "A captain?"

"A Gulliver a captain! He's a full colonel when he gets out. More damn politics. I'll bet his old man paid someone for the Silver Star and all the other things that he got. The bum!"

"But just listen—" I had made a break to get away but Jim grabbed my arm. "Just listen to what he pulls on me just after I get home. I'm coming along the Main Drag on my sticks and I'm still in uniform, and there he is. Maybe you remember how all those Big Shots came down here for some medal or something they were getting."

"Well, they were right out in front of the City Hotel. He sees me coming down the street and I could tell that he recognized me. But I figured that I could go right by him. But you know what the big bum does? He hollers out like a little tin soldier 'Tenshun' and all those big shots stiffen up and give me a high-ball. The bunch of bums."

I couldn't keep up with Jim. "What's wrong with a salute? It sounds pretty swell to me."

"Yeah, it would to you. The big bum knew I couldn't salute back. He just wanted to show his authority before those other officers. I guess the way I glared at him was the only reason he didn't bawl hell out of me right there."

"You know something," Jim was really snarling now. "The big bum was so damn mad about it that I'd swear I could see tears in his eyes."

The Rath Trail

By EVETTS HALEY
Cowman, historian and author of "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman" and other Southwestern books.

The Rath Trail was an important trace across the buffalo turf in the memories of living men. It was not laid out by builders of homes, seekers of gold, nor drivers of herds. But among the trails of the world it was unique. It was built on the business of buffalo hides.

In the early 1870's the spasmodic slaughter of the buffalo boomed into big business with the discovery of a commercial market for their hides. At once greasy and unkempt men, with the vigor of youthful meat eaters in their veins and the light of bold desire in their eyes, moved out on the frontiers of Kansas where the animals grew fat on the grass in millions. They fell upon them and mowed them down. They skinned their hides to dry on the ground and hauled them to market at the newly-founded village, called Dodge City. Their hunting grounds were never static but shifted with the herd. And "the herd," as the millions of noble beasts were known, periodically moved with that strange, wild impulse that makes migration—north with the growth of grass in the spring and south before the slanting snows of fall.

Thousands of men pushed into the buffalo range into that vast expanse of unsettled plain that sloped gently into the sun for hundreds of miles between the frontiers of Kansas and Fort Concho in Texas. Not a railroad crossed its grass or tapped its trade.

But out of Dodge City came Charlie Rath in partnership with Lee and Reynolds, the great western army and Indian traders. His train of freight wagons was loaded with kegs of powder and whiskey, bars of lead and boxes of tobacco, and other simple necessities of life that the hunters demanded. He pushed south in the fall of 1876 to Fort Elliott, which had just been built in the Texas Panhandle. There he was joined by fifty to sixty hunters, each drawn with the usual six yoke of steers, they pointed south for the new and most profitable part of the hunting range.

Rath led the way with his compass on the horn of his saddle. Day after day they kept south at the foot of the Plains, across the Salt Fork, across Red River, over to the Brazos, and up the Double Mountain Fork near to the Double Mountains. There Rath established a hunter's trading post, built principally of poles and covered with hides. It boomed until the buffalo were gone as Rath or Reynolds City.

Along the rough ruts of the Rath Trail that almost pointed the magnetic course from there to Mobetie, the settlement at Fort Elliott, moved hundreds of thousands of high-stocked, flinty hides seeking a certain market at Dodge. Back down the trail sweating and swearing bull-whackers, each with an eye skinned for Indians, brought the heavy loads of supplies the hunters had to have.

In two years the best of the trade was done and those noted South Plains hunters, the Moor Brothers, took their forty yoke of cattle and at one trip moved Rath City, kit and caboodle, back up the Rath Trail to Camp Supply in Indian Territory. And except in the mellow memories of once vigorous men, the Rath Trail was gone.

The average citizen who looks ahead no further than taxpaying time wonders why the politicians are so hopped up over anything as far away as 1948.

When she pays 15c for a nickel loaf of bread, the housewife complains—not realizing this is known as prosperity.

Between all this prosperity that no one can afford and hard times at popular prices, it is difficult to choose.

FARMERS! DON'T MISS...

"MEN WITH A MISSION"

MOVIE IN FULL COLOR, TO BE SHOWN HERE FREE!

A general invitation to farmers of this community and of nearby towns to view "Men with a Mission," a motion picture in full color, has just been issued by Hill Implement Company, Minneapolis-Moline dealer of Canyon, Texas.

The picture will be shown on Feb. 28 at 2:00 o'clock in M-M building. The program arranged for this occasion by the local farm implement dealer will also include refreshments.

The picture tells the story of a boy and a girl who at first seem dissatisfied with their life on the farm and do not appreciate the highly interesting role farmers are playing today in producing the essential needs of humanity and of industry. By a series of amusing incidents they are convinced in the end that modern farmers are men with a mission that challenges the imagination.

The picture also depicts the part farmers and modern farm machinery are playing in expanding production and in meeting growing demands by the world for food and by industry for raw materials produced on farms. Scenes for this picture were filmed entirely in color and in all parts of the United States.

In assuring the farmers of this community that the picture and the program, which are entirely free, will be entertainment events they will long remember, Sam H. Hill said, "To those that saw the show last year, this one is said to be better."

Band Projects Three Programs

Reaching a high-pitch speed in its tempo of activity, the band department is busy planning three new projects, avers M. J. Newman, director.

Most immediate of the three is presentation of the Variety Show, sponsored by the Canyon Lions' Club. With J. W. Walker as master of ceremonies, the entertainers will give two programs next week—one Monday night at the Canyon High School, and one Tuesday evening at 8:15, in the college auditorium.

Handling ticket sales are members of the Student Senate, who will apply proceeds from the ducats purchasable at 60 cents per student to a fund for the Randall County Library. Included in the company are showmen Rosie Bates, LaNell Ekelund, Bill Hutchison, Thelma Mercer and Virginia Hunter.

One week from Saturday, the department will be host to several hundred high school musicians here to participate in a band clinic.

Third cause for extra planning and practicing is in the swing division, where the West Texas Collegians have merited a 15-minute broadcast over KGNC each Saturday afternoon beginning March 1. During the sustaining program, the Collegians will have time for about four numbers, writes Bob Watson, station manager.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Sunday evening at 7:30 the Deacons of the Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of W. L. Smith, will show the film, "The River." With a different interpretation and with special music this should be an interesting hour of worship and fellowship.

On Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Jones, will preach on "The Applause of Men." The Ladies Auxiliary will be the guests of the women of the Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon. The program will be based on the theme, "The Christian and Race: Fellowship or Failure."

The Choral Club of the Canyon High School, under the direction of M. D. Shepherd, will sing at the meeting of the Schooner Club on Tuesday evening.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of February 16, 1922)

Announcement was made from Austin that Governor Pat Neff would visit the normal when the the Board of Regents come here the second week in April.

Announcing for public office this week were: Worth A. Jennings for county judge; T. V. Reeves for clerk; R. L. Lester for county judge.

Company F was mustered into federal service last night. Petitions are being circulated to consolidate Common School Districts 2 and 18 with the Canyon Independent School District. The election will be called as soon as legally possible.

Rev. B. F. Fronabarger has bought the Henry Bradford home across from the campus.

W. A. Johnson, publisher of the Memphis Herald, has announced for lieutenant governor. He was defeated two years ago for the office, after serving as state senator.

A move has been started by the Chamber of Commerce to improve the sanitary conditions of Canyon by regular inspection of dairies, cafes and grocery stores.

Work in West Texas State has been accepted as a four year senior college by the State Education Department. The legislature authorized the addition of the third and fourth years, and now official acceptance of this work has been received by President J. A. Hill. This was the first normal in the state to be recognized for advanced work by the Education Department.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad now shows full-length movies on The George Washington, streamliner running between Washington and Cincinnati. It's possible for the hero to kiss the heroine from Charleston, W. Va., to Cincy, with a break for station announcement at Huntington.

Looks as though a New York skyscraper will be the permanent home of the United Nations. Being up in the air is no novelty for any discussion group.

Motor fuel requirements will hit an all-time peak in 1947 with an estimated daily demand of 2,205 million barrels as against 2.12 million in 1946, a gain of about 4%.

The $15,000-$20,000 home, expected under the new housing setup, is obviously impossible for the veteran. It supersedes the $10,000 job, which was merely implausible.

The New Deal may not be entirely dead, but there are signs that it is expiring. For instance the term "millions" is again being used in Washington.

President Truman is preparing a special report to Congress on U. S. relations with U. N. The report will deal mainly with atomic energy and disarmament.

Anti-Malaria Drug Available to Public

16 Times as Strong as Quinine
And Less Poisonous.

NEW YORK.—Developed during the war to protect American soldiers against malaria, a new drug now is available for domestic use, it has been disclosed.

The drug originally was known as 7618 and later as chloroquine. It is 16 times as strong as quinine and much less poisonous. It is reported a better drug than atabrine, which was used widely during most of the war.

Chloroquine, a synthetic compound made from coal tar, is related chemically to both quinine and atabrine. Clinical tests still are being made to determine whether it can be made still more effective.

Government statistics show that more than 500,000 army and navy personnel were treated for malaria during the war, but some medical men believe the number affected may have been close to 1,000,000.

Thousands of men returning from the war—particularly those from the Southwest Pacific—have had recurrent attacks of malaria, and in some cases some have been reported as indirect carriers of the disease.

With chloroquine, however, medical scientists believe that no widespread outbreak of malaria will occur in this country.

The new drug, which was not used on a big scale until late in the war, prevents and cures one type of malaria, called plasmodium falciparum but is not so effective against another type, called plasmodium vivax. The latter is the recurring type.

Chloroquine has several advantages over atabrine in that it does not cause the patient's skin to stain; does not cause gastrointestinal symptoms and may be given in a single dose. Atabrine must be given daily for a week.

The drug will be sold under the name of aralen. Presently it will be distributed through physicians and hospitals, but the time may come when it may be purchased in drug stores in the South, where malaria is most prevalent in this country.

Firms Close Deal; Sign by Television

WASHINGTON.—Two business firms signed a contract by television, described as the first of its kind.

The contract was between the Chevrolet motor division of General Motors and Du Mont Television for a series of 1947 television programs which Chevrolet will sponsor.

Two television studios in New York and Washington were connected by coaxial cable. Du Mont officials signed the contract in New York; Chevrolet in Washington. Each group viewed twin television screens that reproduced the "conference" scenes.

Two contracts were signed and photographed. Then the screen images were superimposed, resulting in one paper bearing signatures of both parties.

One of Last Air Thrills Is 'Flying Off Waterfall'

NEW YORK. — When a plane takes off right over the edge of one of the major falls of the world it startles even an air transport expert.

B. C. H. Cross, in a recent survey of colonial services, reports this routine operation to British Overseas Airways Corp.

Maj. Art Williams, managing director and chief pilot of the air service in British Guiana, provides the thrill regularly, Cross says.

"Kaieteur falls in British Guiana is one of the major falls of the world, a river pouring into a valley 741 feet below.

"Art Williams is the modern Barnum; he flies his plane off the river straight over the edge of the falls.

"In these days of prosaic air transport here remains one of the last flights with a thrill."

Sharp, Cutting Pains? Yes, Razor Blade Is Extracted

OMAHA. — When Charles H. Maney, 74, complained of "sharp, cutting pains" he wasn't kidding.

Physicians, after an x-ray examination, agreed that the description was letter perfect, for they found a single-edged razor blade lodged in his intestines.

Maney, retired farmer from South Sioux City, Neb., was mystified. He said he didn't make it a practice to eat razor blades, couldn't even remember nibbling on one.

Relieved of the blade, Maney was reported to be recovering.

Russians Open Reich Door To 15,000 Denmark Germans

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK. — Soviet authorities in Germany informed the Danish foreign office that the 15,000 German refugees in Denmark, who were residents of the Soviet zone of Germany, would be received back there. Earlier the Russians had promised to receive as many of the 210,000 German refugees in Denmark as were received by other zones. Britain and France offered to repatriate 12,000.

The ceilings are off housing. Now let's get some ceilings . . . and some walls to go with them.

During the winter months we do not have to put out the "Standing Room Only" sign, although our shop stays busy all of the time.

Next summer during the rush of farm work, it will be a different story. Then it will be next to impossible to wait on you.

Furthermore, it may be impossible to get needed parts during the rush season. The strike situation has slowed down production in all metal lines.

We cannot urge you strong enough to give our trained mechanics an opportunity to serve you NOW. Next summer it may be an entirely different story.

Extension of Social Security Is Asked By That Agency

Extension of coverage under old-age and survivors insurance to all gainfully employed workers is one of the recommendations of the Social Security Board in its eleventh and last annual report, J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration, said today.

In July of 1946 the Board was abolished, its functions transferred to the Federal Security Agency, and its organization designated as the Social Security Administration. The current report, required of the Board under the Social Security Act, is for the fiscal year 1945-46, and was submitted to Congress February 11.

Mr. Sanderson pointed out that the recommendation for extension was based upon ten years of administrative experience, which had demonstrated the feasibility of extension of coverage to the groups now without the protection of the program. Persons not at present able to earn protection under the program include those employed in agriculture, domestic service, non-profit organizations and Government service, and those who are self-employed.

In addition to protection the groups not now covered, the extension of the program would reduce the number of persons who lose their rights to benefits by shifting in and out of covered employment, he added.

Another recommendation of the Board in the Report calls for payment of benefits to insured workers during periods of permanent total disability through expansion of the present Federal Government program of the old-age and survivors insurance. In making this recommendation for the inclusion of disability insurance, the Board said that the wage loss suffered by permanent disabled workers and their families probably runs from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year.

A third major recommendation calls for changes in the method by which old-age and survivors insurance benefits are figured to increase the amount of the benefits, particularly for low-paid workers. The general level of benefits should be raised, the report states, largely because of increased living costs.

Other recommendations of the Board call for increasing from $3,000 to $3,600 a year the wages that may be credited to the account of any worker, thus expanding the basis for determination of benefits, and an increase in the amount of earnings a beneficiary may receive in covered employment without having benefits suspended. The Board also recommended reduction of the qualifying age for all women beneficiaries from 65 to 60.

Atomic bombs can now be made at a cost of $1 million. The world still can't afford them.

Mumps on Increase Over Texas Reports Health Officer

During the past few weeks there has been a general increase in the increase of mumps throughout the State. There have been 1750 cases reported since January 1, compared with only 896 cases during the same period last year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Though mumps is one of the common childhood diseases, serious complications may develop, so children should be protected as much as possible from this disease. The usual control procedures such as avoidance of crowds, exclusion from school of all cases or suspected cases and quarantine should be followed. The family physician should always be consulted when a case occurs.

The most easily recognized characteristic symptom of mumps is a painful swelling of the salivary glands. Sometimes there is an involvement of other portions of the body causing disturbances in the digestive, nervous, circulatory, and genito-urinary systems. The disease is usually accompanied by a temperature rise which more often than not is mild.

"The patient suffering with this disease should be isolated from other members of the family immediately upon the suspicion that mumps exists, and the family physician should be called promptly," Dr. Cox advises. "In the meantime, complete rest in bed is indicated. The doctor's orders should be followed strictly. Violating his instructions can lead to serious injury, which may permanently affect the individual's health."

American people's food consumption capacity will undergo real test this year because (1) the Government will not be buying in large quantities for the first time in many years; (2) purchase for relief outside the U. S. will be limited to wheat and powdered milk.

Census Bureau will probably get $15.15 million for a business census as requested in Truman's budget; also $5 million for a manufacturers' census due every two years, but not taken since pre-war; also $130,000 for census of electrical industries.

Oil company geologists predict that new oil resources in the U. S. yet to be discovered will equal the vast quantities already located.

Buffaloes Lost
Two of Three Games on Trip

West Texas State's battered but fighting basketball team returned to the campus Saturday after a long road-trip which saw them lose two out of three games.

Last Wednesday night the tall Panhandle boys invaded the lair of the Texas Miners in El Paso and were beaten by the score of 56-46.

The speedy Miners led throughout the contest except for a brief period early in the battle when the Buffs held a 9-8 advantage. The hustling Canyon club narrowed the margin to five points 39-34 with six minutes remaining, but a burst of baskets handed the Orediggers the victory.

Glynn Braden, 6 foot 4 inch boy from Sherman, led the West Texas scoring with 21 points while Mike Izquierdo paraded the Miners with 19 tallies.

Trailing at half-time 30-26, the Buffs turned on the steam and out-classed the Aggies in the final 20 minutes of play.

J. W. Malone pumped 19 points through the hoops in the second half to lead the West Texas assault.

Aggie Coach, Jerry Hines, remarked that the West Texans were the best team his quintet had faced this season and that includes the Conference leaders, Arizona.

Hank Decker and Glynn Braden performed exceptionally well under the backboards and drilled point after point through the hoop in the final Buffalo upsurge.

Thursday night the Buffaloes moved to Las Cruces and tackled the New Mexico Aggies in another conference game and came out on the long end of a 63-51 count.

Traveling to Albuquerque Friday night, the tree-top Texas cagers clashed with the University of New Mexico in Carlisle Gym and lost a thriller 51-47.

West Texas jumped into a quick lead in the first half and it appeared as if they would not be headed. They led 30-15 at the close of the intermission.

Coming out with renewed vigor in the second frame, the Lobos began hitting from every part of the court and before the Texans could regain their composure the count was locked at 47-47 with one minute of play remaining.

Two quick field goals by New Mexico iced the game away for the Albuquerque quintet and the Buffaloes were out of the running.

"Soldier's Wife" Will Be Given 3 Nights at Cousins

Have you ever wondered just what goes on behind the curtain between acts and how the quick change artists really operate? So has this reporter.

W. A. Moore, director, couldn't promise anything from the quick change angle, but so far as curtains are concerned, the audience will not be bothered with them.

The three-act play entitled "Soldier's Wife" and beginning a three-day run at Cousins Hall starting at 8:15 Wednesday evening, will give the people at West Texas a chance to see "Intimate Theater" in operation here for the first time since 1941.

This production affords an excellent opportunity for those with vivid imagination to give it a good exercising. Since all that goes on "behind the scenes" will have to be done without any scenery and right in the center of the audience, it should prove interesting to see just how it comes about.

The cast, made up of five advanced speech majors, includes: Jack Walker and Joy Cain in the leads, with Bill Robinson, Margaret Miller, and Shirley Byars.

"Many of us like to dress up for certain occasions," mused Mr. Moore, "so we decided to have opening night a formal, long-dress affair; however, the next two nights, on Thursday and Friday, will be semi-formal."

Betty Fields, Broadway actress, holds the current record for cues in the theatrical world with a number of 600. However, Joy Cain becomes a close rival in her role as Jack Walker's wife with over 500 cues.

Tickets will be on sale today, in the main hall of the Administration building, and since the audience capacity at Cousins is rather limited, only 100 tickets will be available for sale each night. Admission price will be 60 cents per person.

Classed as one of the ten best plays of 1945, "Soldier's Wife," given on Broadway and written by the author of the Claudia and David series, is a sparkling, modern drama, so new it was difficult to obtain the right of production here.

Mr. Moore asserts that a number of representatives from Amarillo's "Little Theater" will be here to see the production.

10 ways you can help yourself to good telephone service

Telephoning is easy. But more depends on the user than people realize. What you do when making or receiving a call often has a lot to do with how satisfactory that call is. Here are ten suggestions:

2. Give the called party time to answer. He or she may be some distance from the telephone. A minute isn't too long.

3. Speak directly into the mouthpiece. About an inch between it and your lips is right for best results.

4. Move the switch hook slowly up and down to recall or signal the operator. "Jiggling" the hook rapidly often won't cause a signal to come in and is useless.

5. Replace the receiver carefully when you have finished talking. A receiver partly off the hook puts the whole line out of order.

6. Answer calls promptly. It's courteous to do so and often keeps the caller from hanging up—thinking you're not at home.

7. Identify yourself when you call or answer. Not everyone recognizes you by your voice. Telling who you are saves time and sometimes embarrassment.

8. Space calls on party lines.

If you have a series of calls to make, allow a few minutes between each one so others can use the line to call or be called.

9. Keep calls brief on party lines. Other folks on the line will appreciate your thoughtfulness and—who knows—may follow your good example.

10. Avoid calling in busy hours if possible. Switchboards are usually busiest during midmorning and late afternoon.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

Wedding Vows Spoken In Church Ceremony

In a beautiful church ceremony, Miss Jessie DeGraffenried became the bride of Mr. Kenneth McDouall, Sunday afternoon, February 16, at 2 o'clock at the First Methodist Church. Rev. Hubert Thomson, pastor, performed the single-ring ceremony. Baskets of gladioli and acacia were arranged at the altar, flanked by tall candelabra bearing white tapers, and entwined on the altar rail and choir rail were arrangements of springeril.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Evelyn Frieze, organist, played Cadman's "Love Song," Mrs. Bryan McDonald sang "O Promise Me" by DeKoven and "I Love You Truly" by Bond. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen and Glenn Wade Dowlen sang a duet, "Why Do I Love You" by Jerome Kern. For the procession, Mrs. Frieze played the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin by Wagner, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used as the recessional.

Miss Novella Goodman, who attended the bride as maid of honor, was attired in a rose colored gown of taffeta and lace. Her pink net headress was caught in back with gladioli, and she carried a bouquet of gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Paul Rogers, chose for her wedding a gown of dusty rose lace and brocade crepe. Her headress of pink net was with an arrangement of gladioli and vanda orchids, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a cattleya orchid and showered with vanda orchids and gladioli. For something old she wore a locket which belonged to her maternal grandmother, and a watch, which belonged to the groom's mother, and was a gift to the bride from the groom. For something new, she had a Roosevelt dime in her shoe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DeGraffenried, chose a navy blue crepe dress, and wore a gardenia corsage.

Lee Foster attended the groom as best man, and ushers were Jess Armstrong and Max Bellah.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the couple was held at the home of the bride's mother for out-of-town guests and members of the wedding party. The lace covered table was centered with the wedding cake, and Mrs. Alfred Bellah presided at the silver tea service. Mrs. Veri Iverson registered the guests, and Mrs. D. A. Nicholas assisted in the reception rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. McDouall left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon trip enroute to their home in Walla Walla, Washington.

Samuelson Attends Dodge Meeting In Lubbock

Otto Samuelson of the Samuelson Motor Company has returned from a meeting in Lubbock where a member of the Dodge factory executive staff of Detroit outlined advertising, merchandising and training plans for 1947.

The continuing program of training Dodge dealers and salesmen to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet specific hauling needs were outlined at the meeting. Suggestions were made on the purchase of new equipment, and dealers were urged to expand present service and parts facilities in those few instances where they are not adequate to accommodate increasing demands.

Dealers were told that the Dodge "Job-Rated" truck line was expanded during 1946 to include 175 basic gross vehicle weight models covering 97 per cent of all hauling and delivery requirements.

A motion picture was shown which depicted how Dodge trucks are job-rated at the factory with all basic units such as engine, clutch, transmission, axles, frame, springs and brakes to fit individual operator's loads over the roads. The movie is to be made available later for showing here to truck owners.

The meeting was one of 101 being conducted throughout the nation to carry the expanded program to the more than 4,000 Dodge dealers.

It's all in the point of view: An Indiana grand jury inspected the jail and found it "clean and inviting"—the jurors were on the outside looking in.

Mathematical Field Encourages Many in Practical Calculations

Kirkland and Simms Teach
Math, Algebra I, Geometry

"Geometry, algebra, oh goodness, what subjects we do have to take!" The teachers seem to have a different view of the question and here is what I found out when I asked them.

Kirkland Teaches 64
Mrs. K. L. Kirkland teaches 64 students these unearthy requirements in algebra I and plane geometry. Sophomores in algebra I have their most trouble with statement problems of one and two unknowns, but are getting along as well as could be expected. Factoring plus drill and review of fundamental process with work on graphs will complete their work for the rest of the year.

Congruent triangles, parallel lines, polygons, and quadrilaterals are now driving the juniors and seniors mad. They are slow but very thorough. Before the year is over, they will have proportions, circles, and inequalities.

"These students have high scholastic averages, and the group is an excellent one of reasoners with good powers of analyzing problems," states Mrs. Kirkland.

Simms Reports
One hundred twenty-nine boys and girls pass in and out of room 20 each day for the purpose of learning arithmetic. The seventh grade spends its time studying "Developing Number Sense," a little bulletin of one thousand problems put out by the Extension Division of the University of Texas. These bulletins are definitely a challenge to any alert mind. They certainly do what their title suggests. The

SAY, WHY NOT!

Aren't we proud of our trophy case? If the answer is yes, why don't we all show it?

In the trophy cases among two footballs, which indicate District winners, are photos galore, 20 plaques and awards, 30 trophies and 18 cups, then, besides these, we have added six trophies and two awards this year.

The students of CHS have fought hard, played fair, and gained these honors. They represent the reward for our best efforts in many fields. How about not piling our books around them?

Although we are often in a hurry to rush into assembly and "grab" us a seat, we can hold our books in our laps instead of piling them outside. Then too, when the bell rings at noon and we make a mad dash to the lunch room line, we could carry our books downstairs.

Visitors coming into our building, naturally will glance first at the trophy case. Here's hoping he can see the honors and trophies we won. Books piled around detract from the significance and beauty.

Come on students, let's try to avoid this. It will take only a minute longer.

By M. B.

A STITCH IN TIME

When you choose this year's courses, what did you think about? Was it something like this? Gee, I'll take that. It's a snap; or that teacher and I really get along nicely with each other; or Jimmie, Fred, and Jane are in there so I'll take that. Of course, you didn't choose all of your courses in this manner, but can you honestly say you didn't select any of them that way?

Such a method as this is just fine, if you plan to dig ditches or wash dishes as a vocation, but if you plan to take a college degree you'd better consider some of these things: Is it required? Will it be beneficial to my planned degree? Can I carry this course this year without injury to my other grades?

With just a little speculation, one can avoid all the trouble of discovering at the last minute that he'll be so many credits shy of a diploma; or he can't get his degree until he takes such and such a course.

Why not think and avoid all of this? Seems far away now, but time certainly passes fast!

The District, Regional, State and National contest keep pyramiding in value until the winner in the National Oratorical Contest will receive $5,000 as a 4 year scholarship in any college or university in the United States.

The second and third place winners received medals and $10.00 and $5.00 respectively.

The contestants were judged according to their speaking ability, poise, and the length and quality of their speech.

Teacher's Request Not Out of Line With Other States

A minimum beginning salary for degree teachers of $2,000 per year in Texas that will be requested by the Texas State Teachers Association of the 50th Legislature is not out of line with what is being done in other states and with the ability of Texas to pay.

On November 5, the citizens of California, a state that already ranks second among the states of the country in school support, voted almost 3 to 1 to raise the minimum teachers salary from $1800 to $2400. The proposal was in the form of a constitutional amendment. Beginning with the school year September 1, 1947, no California teacher, rural or city, will receive less than $2400 per year.

Michigan voters, on November 5, approved a constitutional amendment allocating $30,000,000 additional revenue from state sales taxes to local school districts.

Oregon voters approved a constitutional amendment which will provide an estimated $4,000,000 increase in state aid schools. This will make it possible for the state of Utah to pay not to exceed 75 per cent of what the entire school program cost. Utah now pays 45 per cent of the total school costs.

The state of Arkansas, next to the lowest in the family of states in the amount spent on a per capita basis for school support, is launching a program to increase the salaries for teachers in 1947 by $300 each.

Washington state has on its legislative program a proposal to increase the minimum salary from $2200 to $2400.

The state of New York ranks first in per capita expenditure among the states of the country. Yet, they propose at their forthcoming session of the legislature an emergency appropriation sufficient to give each New York teacher outside of New York City not less than $2400 effective this year with comparable legislation to meet the needs of the teachers of New York City.

Hundreds of school boards throughout the country have already, during the course of the school year, provided substantial salary increases for teachers. Texas is no exception in this instance. Records of Texas State Teachers Association show that 278 independent districts have granted salary increases from local sources for the current school year, but 3,000 school districts in Texas coming under the provisions of equalization or rural aid are prohibited by law from increasing teachers salaries from local funds. The maximum salary of some 16,000 teachers in these schools with a Master's degree and 10 years of experience is only $1458.

Denver, Colorado recently raised the minimum salary from $1200 to $2280 for teachers without experience. The maximum for teachers with Bachelor's degrees was increased from $2880 to $3650, and the maximum for teachers with a Master's degree was raised from $3080 to $3850.

A comparison of salaries of teachers in Texas with the average earnings per full time employee in private industry and other professional activities discloses some interesting facts. The average salary of classroom teachers in Texas in 1945-46 was $1593. The average earning per full time employee in private industry in 1945 was $2242. The average annual salary of civilian federal employees in 1945 was $2595. The beginning salary in the professional and scientific services of the federal civil service is $2645 for the college graduate without experience. Salary studies have shown that the median professional employee in the federal service is classified in Grade 3 with a basic salary of $4150. By 1945, per capita income in the various states of the country had increased 113% while the teachers' average salary had increased 31%.

BOYCE HOUSE

All of us have run across some little poem or article whose sentiment struck us as being of such an appealing nature that we have clipped it out and kept it.

Your columnist never thought that anything which he might write would be worthy of such regard, but a few days ago an old-time friend, J. LeRoy Arnold of Eastland, pulled from his billfold a clipping that was yellow with years, having appeared in the paper when I was editor there about 1922. Perhaps you would like to read it!

"Seize the moments as they pass. Fill them with kindness and service to others. Courtesy and consideration for those with whom you come in contact cost nothing, yet they often win a loyalty and devotion that all Midas' gold could never buy. And, besides, they will mean happiness to you; your heart will glow with the satisfaction of having done something worth while.

"Not all of us can aid in reforming a nation and uplifting the condition of a people. Not all of us can write poems that will elevate man's mind or compose music that will flood the soul with harmony, or preach a sermon that will turn mankind's thoughts to noble themes. Not all of us can write a novel that will touch men's hearts with sympathy nor can all of us lead an army that brings liberation to a land.

"But, with our gifts and capacities we can—in our sphere, whether large or small—do something to make people happier.

"What will it avail you, in the evening of your life, if you have succeeded in business but have done so at the price of a hardened heart and a shrunken and shriveled soul?

"The man who makes those about him glad, spreads smiles and good cheer, and extends a helping hand in time of need and a consoling word in the hour of sorrow, is the only true success."

Crazy for Money

By ERNEST MILES
WNU Features.

BACK for the "Crazy for Money" program, Bud Watson was on the platform waiting to go on the air.

If you listened to the show two weeks ago you will remember Mart Rinearly, the Master of Ceremonies, introduced Bud. He told how Bud had just been discharged from the army and had volunteered for any stunt asked of him. Bud was to go out to Roscoe's Mammoth Carnival in the Fair Grounds, and to act as a spieler for Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties.

And now the program was on the air and Mart Rinearly was saying, "Hello! Hello! Hello! Tonight we are going to hear what happened to Bud Watson, who two weeks ago went out to the Carnival to be a spieler on Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties show. Captain Billy is here, too, and I see he has brought a very pretty blonde with him. We'll start with you, Captain. But first, who is this lovely girl?"

"Oh, this is my daughter, Dora, who got herself involved in the stunt so I brought her along, too."

"This sounds mysterious, but tell us first what you did with Bud."

"There was a big crowd of folks who had heard your broadcast and they came out to hear the fun. They began calling for Bud so I brought him onto the platform. That big, red-headed six-footer just stood there tongue-tied. However, I managed to get him going and he did pretty well so I sent him inside to announce the events."

"I got along fine with Dora."

"Then you would say Bud was a success and deserves the money?"

"He did all right but he was still paying more attention to my daughter than to the show. It ended up by my having him thrown into the tank of water."

The audience was screaming as Mart asked, "You mean to say the evening ended with you in the water, Bud?"

Bud stammered a bit, "Well, as the Captain told you, we went out to the show and I was to listen and learn from him what to do. But that girl in the ticket booth set my head in a whirl and I just couldn't concentrate on what the Captain was saying."

"The crowd laughed at me and Captain Billy said, 'Get going kid,' so I did the best I could."

"But," asked Mart, "how in the world did you get thrown into the tank three nights later?"

"Oh, I was crazy about the girl in the booth and went back each night, determined to make her like me. I hung around but she wouldn't talk. Captain Billy got madder and madder and tried to chase me away. On the third night he had a couple of fellows throw me into the tank."

"I was certainly wet and just as I got out of the tank Dora came back with the cash and tickets. When she saw what had happened she let out a yell and chased those fellows out. Then she turned and gave Captain Billy a tongue-lashing. I didn't know until then she was his daughter."

"Ha, ha, romance seems to have bloomed," said Mart and "let's hear what Captain Billy has to say."

"I didn't like it at first because Dora is only 18 and I've been both father and mother to her. Her mother died when she was three. But Bud is a persistent guy. I could see Dora had fallen hard for him."

"She got him a job so he'd be able to marry her?"

"She certainly did. Bud is now my chief assistant and doing a swell job. When the season is finished they plan to get married and I'll still have my daughter, plus a darn fine son."

By now the audience was standing, cheering. Mart finally broke in: "It just goes to show you never know what will happen on this show. Bud, here is the other half of that $100 bill. Good luck to both of you."

"Thank you very much, it has been a wonderful experience," said Bud and passed the bill over to Dora.

"There," said Mart, "it's the woman who wins. Tell us, Dora, what are you going to do with that money?"

"Well, Mr. Rinearly, Bud promised it to me towards the finest trousseau a girl ever had, but Bud is the best prize of all, a real Valentine."

"I'm sure you will be happy," said Mart, "and Bud may have been crazy for money but he certainly is wise in his choice of a wife."

Russell Rates Title Of Royal Duchess In SHSTC Court

Duchess in the West Texas branch of the intercollegiate royal family, Mary Ruth Russell, senior sociology major, will journey to Huntsville next month to participate in coronation services for the personality queen of Sam Houston State Teachers' College.

Originally, the Student Senate appointed her Sun Princess to attend the carnival celebrated in El Paso during the New Year holidays, but the strike prevented her representing the college at those ceremonies.

During its regular meeting Wednesday evening, the Senate appropriated $30 to defray expenses Mary Ruth will incur in the two-day visit at Huntsville March 18 and 19.

Last spring, West Texas sent both the Duchess and a Duke, Winnie Fred Ramage and B. Raymond Evans. This year, however, according to information received from SHSTC, those who plan the various activities centering around the crowning of the queen will furnish escorts for girls named delegates by the invited schools.

Bufs Face Fast Arizona State Here Saturday

If there ever was a time where in the West Texas State Buffaloes could salvage some of their deflated basketball glory—then this Saturday night is it.

The University of Arizona Wildcats, the conference's undefeated terror of the Border hardwoods, invades Burton Gym Saturday night for a conference clash with Coach W. A. Miller's tall net-swishers.

For the Wildcats, unbeaten in 13 straight Border loop matches and currently rated the nation's 25th team with only one seasonal defeat, it will mean the chance to finish the league play with a perfect record.

For the Buffaloes, as hot-and-cold a roundball quintet as seen in many a year, it will mean a chance to avenge an early season loss to the Tucson five in Arizona and a chance to save face with local supporters after their disastrous road trip—in which they dropped three of four tilts.

Leader

Spearheading the Arizona attack this season is Link Richmond, speedy hawkeyed forward, who also leads the Cactus loop in scoring. The fast and colorful Tucson squad, employing a wide open brand of ball, has averaged 65 points per game in this year's campaign and made a very successful tour through the middle west in late December and early January.

West Texas State, two and three deep with experts at every position, just hasn't been able to keep a sustained winning streak in tact this year and presently are labeled with a ten-won-ten-lost tag.

Malone Hot

Heartwarming for Maroon and White fans is the performance of J. W. Malone, dribble perfectionist and loop-shot artist deluxe, who has seemingly regained his shooting eye in racking up an average of 12 points for the last five games played. In the New Mexico Aggie clash, Malone threaded the hoop for 21 tallies.

Game time for the Saturday night clash is 8 o'clock in Burton Gym and only new activity tickets will be honored.

Four Leaders of the Buffalo Team

Simpson

KENNETH SIMPSON, considered one of the best defensive players on the 1947 Buffalo squad, earned his freshman numeral in 1944-45 when he played with the varsity. That year he scored 80 points.

Coming back to school after spending 8 months with the Navy in the Philippines, this 6 foot 1, 168 pound, 19 year old sophomore from Borger has a starting berth on the 'little fast team' and has turned in a number of fine performances. His one feat of prominence was the guarding of Garland Head in the recent Texas Tech match. After Metz LaFollette had held the powerful scorer in check for three quarters, Simpson came in and continued to hold the hawk-eyed forward to no count.

When Kenneth graduates he wants to become a coach.

Moore Will Work On Theatre Board

W. A. Moore, assistant speech director, has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Amarillo Little Theater, Inc.

Mr. Moore was notified of his appointment in a letter received from Miss Hattie Mae Wood, president of the theater group.

"Your fine cooperation is greatly appreciated and we feel that your experience and talent will be of inestimable value to our organization. We sincerely trust that you will enjoy working with our board and sharing in all its activities," was the text of the letter written by Miss Wood.

In addition to his latest honor, Mr. Moore has served also on the Board of Directors of the Oklahoma Play House in Oklahoma City.

Malone

Flashy J. W. MALONE in his three years of playing at West Texas State has become one of the most colorful figures ever to entertain court fans in Burton Gym.

In 1945, as a freshman, J. W. was placed on the mythical All-American team at the Kansas City Tournament and last season swished the hoops for 332 points.

Standing only 5 foot 10 and weighing 165, this 20 year old junior from Stratford is left handed and is very accurate with a one hand shot from the left side of the court.

So far he has collected one varsity letter and one freshman numeral.

While in high school, Malone made the all-tournament team at 20 high school cage meets and last year was placed on the all-Border Conference team as a guard.

Braden

Sophomore GLYNN BRADEN, reserve center, weighs 205 pounds and stands 6 feet 4.

In 1943 he earned his freshman basketball letter and this season has displayed exceptional skill under the basket for the Maroon and White cagers.

Good for at least 8 or 10 points a game, Glynn is one of the two left handed boys on the team and uses that deception to great advantage. His reach and aggressive drive around the basket makes him a constant scoring threat.

Miller

BILL MILLER, son of Buff coach Gus Miller, gives West Texas State one of the few father-son acts in collegiate basketball.

Bill played his first year for the Buffs last season winning his freshman numerals and scoring 118 points. Height 6 foot 2, weight 165 pounds, age 18, this sophomore player has been a very dependable reserve on the 1947 Maroon quintet and especially proved his ability in the Texas Mines clash when he crammed in 14 points to take high scoring honors.

This Canyon boy lettered two years in high school football and three years in basketball. He is an honor student in his grades.

Suicides Mount In Time of Peace

Rate Always Goes Down in Wartime and Bobs Up Again Afterwards.

NEW YORK—More Americans are committing suicide, now that the war is over. More people crack up in peacetime, says Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. The suicide rate always goes down in wartime, but rises afterwards.

Dublin's figures show that most suicides are city dwellers, and mostly men. There usually are 13,000 to 14,000 suicides a year in the United States—about twice the number of homicides.

During World War II, Dr. Dublin said, the suicide rate declined about 30 per cent. War brings more jobs, more community consciousness and a sense of national unity, and people tend to forget their personal troubles. This wartime decline occurs in all countries.

But in peace reconversion cuts jobs, especially for older or handicapped persons. Personal problems become or appear greater. There are many readjustments, particularly for veterans.

More Quickly Now.

Disillusionment spreads over hasty marriages, lack of housing, industrial unrest or other problems.

After World War I, the suicide rate did not begin to rise until after 1920. But this time the increase came much more quickly, indicating that the second war has had greater and deeper effects on the country.

So far this year, the suicide rate is about 10 per cent above that of 1945. This figure includes rural areas, where people are less prone to commit suicide, Dublin said.

Why do people kill themselves? Suicide is characteristic of the most advanced or individual people, Dr. Dublin explains. It is common among sophisticated city people who seek new thrills, but is rare among farmers and laborers. It is mostly a phenomenon of cities, where the stresses of life are greater.

Due to Ill Health.

A study in Detroit showed that less than two per cent of attempted or successful suicides there in 1942 and 1943 were attributable to money troubles, and Dublin says this may hold true of the country as a whole.

Among men, this survey showed, ill health accounted for 40 per cent of suicide attempts, domestic difficulties for 30 per cent and love affairs for only 4 per cent.

Among women, domestic troubles were listed as the motive in half of the suicide attempts, ill health in 20 per cent, love affairs in 10 per cent.

The Detroit study showed that the highest proportion of successful attempts were made because of ill health.

Disabled Veterans Return

To Active Duty in Army

WASHINGTON.—The army placed back on active duty the first of an estimated 5,000 combat veterans who will serve although partly disabled by wounds.

Richard Montgomery, 29, of Pittsburgh, who lost his left forearm in aerial combat over Rangoon, Burma, in 1944, was sworn in at his wartime grade of air forces master sergeant.

With a plea that he was "perfectly capable of handling any number of jobs in the army," Montgomery sold General Eisenhower on the idea of re-enlisting men who are only partly disabled and possess skills and experience the peacetime army needs.

Here's One Occasion When Bad Coins Come to Good End

LAS VEGAS.—Bad coins do come to a good ending sometimes, the Rev. E. J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, Neb., observed as he was handed a sack containing $600 in defaced pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars and silver dollars.

W. J. Moore, hotel executive, explained that the coins hindered operations of his hotel's slot machines.

Father Flanagan said the money would feed and clothe a citizen of Boys Town for a year.

Former Premier Tojo Takes Blame for Starting the War

TOKYO.—Hideki Tojo, Japan's wartime premier, has acknowledged chief responsibility for launching the Pacific war, the prosecution told the Allied war crimes tribunal.

It quoted Tojo as saying last spring during questioning in prison that "I, as senior member (of the cabinet) am chiefly responsible for the attacks on Pearl Harbor."

Russians Reveal Heavy Cut In Army Officers and Men

MOSCOW.—Red Star announced that demobilization of the largest group of soldiers and non-commissioned officers yet released from the Soviet army had begun. (Exact figures on the number released were not specified.)

"In the next two months," the army newspaper said, "thousands of our fighting comrades who have fulfilled their military duties will return to peaceful creative labor."

Optimist and pessimist are often wrong, but the optimist has the most fun.
